NIBRS Data Collection

NIBRS (National Incident-Based Reporting System) is a second-generation crime reporting system that collects data on each single incident and arrest within twenty-two Offense Categories. These categories consist of forty-six specific crimes called "Group A Offenses". In addition to the "Group A Offenses", there are eleven "Group B Offense" categories for which only summary complaint and arrest data are reported.

For each crime incident reported to law enforcement, a variety of data are collected about the incident. These data include the nature and types of specific offenses in the incident, characteristics of the victim(s) and offender(s), types and value of property stolen and recovered, and characteristics of persons arrested in connection with a crime incident. NIBRS goes into much greater detail than the summary-based UCR system that was formerly used as the data collection process.

NIBRS offers law enforcement and policy makers more comprehensive data management, training, planning, and research. The implementation of NIBRS is commensurate with resources, abilities, and limitations of the contributing law enforcement agencies.

Since its inception in 2000, all of Delaware's fifty-three law enforcement agencies were reporting NIBRS data to the statewide repository. As of 2007, the FBI has certified thirty-one state UCR Programs for NIBRS participation, including Delaware. Ten of those state programs submit their crime data exclusively via the NIBRS. Nine state UCR Programs are in the various stages of testing the NIBRS. Twelve other state agencies are in various stages of planning and development. In 2007, 6,444 law enforcement agencies nationwide contributed NIBRS data to the UCR Program. The data from those agencies represent 25 % of the U.S. population and 25 % of the crime statistics collected by the UCR Program. Implementation of NIBRS is occurring at a pace commensurate with the resources, abilities, and limitations of the contributing law enforcement agencies.

In 2009, law enforcement agencies active in the UCR Program represented more than 295 million United States inhabitants—96.3 % of the total population. The coverage amounted to 97.1 % of the population in Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 90.9 % of the population in cities outside metropolitan areas, and 93.0 % of the population in nonmetropolitan counties.

FBI pilot testing has begun of a third-generation crime reporting system, which aims to extend the scope of NIBRS into the realm of information sharing. The NIBRS data are designed to be generated as a by-product of local, state and federal automated record systems. This new system promises to provide law enforcement agencies with current, secure, investigative information that has strategic, operational, and tactical intelligence value.

The 2009 data in this report comes from the NIBRS report dated December 14, 2010.

NIBRS Group A Offenses: Homicide, Kidnapping, Forcible and non-forcible Sex Offenses, Robbery, Assaults (all), Arson, Extortion/Blackmail, Burglary, Larceny/Theft, Motor Vehicle Theft, Counterfeiting/Forgery, Fraud, Embezzlement, Stolen Property, Property Destruction/ Vandalism, Drug/Narcotic Offenses, Other Sex Offenses, Bribery, Pornography/Obscene Material, Gambling, Prostitution, and Weapon Law Violations.

Clearance Rates

Clearance rates in crime analysis is the number or percentage of offenses received that are solved by the police. An offense is 'cleared by arrest' or solved for crime reporting purposes when at least one person is arrested, charged with the commission of the offenses and turned over to the court for prosecution.

An offense is also counted as cleared by arrest if any of the following "exceptional" conditions pertain: suicide of the offender; double murder; deathbed confession; offender killed by police or citizen; confession by offender already in custody or serving a sentence; an offender prosecuted in another jurisdiction for a different offense and that jurisdiction does not release offender to first jurisdiction; extradition denied; victim refuses to cooperate in prosecution; warrant is outstanding for felon but before arrest the offender dies of natural causes or as a result of an accident, or is killed in the commission of another offense; or, handling of a juvenile offender either orally or by written notice to parents in instances involving minor offenses where no referral to juvenile court is made as a matter of publicly accepted police policy. [1]

It should be noted that the arrest of one person can clear several crimes or several persons may be arrested to clear one crime. Violent crime (murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault) often undergo a more vigorous investigative effort than crimes against property. Additionally, victims and or witnesses often identify the perpetrators. Consequently, violent crimes tend to have higher clearance rates than property Offenses.

Clearance Rates: Group A

There was a 4.12% decrease in total reported offenses between 2008 and 2009, with a 22.4% increase in arrests for that same time period. There was a .88% decrease in offenses cleared by the police.

Crime in Delaware 2000 – 2009 by Jurisdiction

Delaware Offense and Clearance data appear by agency in the following "Crime in Delaware 2000 – 2009 by Jurisdiction" section. This is a ten year span of offenses reported statewide by jurisdiction. Included are the percentage changes per column per crime from 2008 to 2009. 'Offenses' are "offenses received" - the primary crime statistic for NIBRS. Because serious charges in a case can be counted separately as an "offense received", these counts exceed the count of complaints. The following section includes counts of "offenses received" for crimes including homicide, forcible sex offenses, robbery, aggravated assaults, arson, burglary, larceny/theft, motor vehicle theft, drug/narcotic offenses and weapon law violations.

For each type of "offense received" the number of cleared offenses is also provided. 'Clearances' are complaints considered cleared or solved once the police have identified the offender. One arrest may clear several crimes; therefore the clearance rate is often higher than the arrest rate.

It is important to note that the snapshot provided on the following pages is intended to provide a full account of a year's law enforcement activity, but there can be significant delays in conclusions and therefore, in the reporting of that activity. SBI makes tremendous efforts to give all agencies the opportunity of have their year's activity entered into the state's information system. No agency is penalized for early, updated or late reporting – In fact, SBI does not prepare the year-end summary and the annual analysis until the last jurisdiction reports.

Only arrestee data are required for Group B crimes. |
| Juvenile | A person under 18 years of age. |
| Offenses Received (Charges) | Crimes reported to or otherwise known to police. Each charge in the crime incident is counted.
