Crime in Delaware: 2014 – 2018 is the official report of serious crimes known to Delaware law enforcement from 2014 through 2018. The report provides extensive data about crime at state and county levels. This supplement reflects an evolving effort within the Crime in Delaware reporting process to provide extensive crime data about the City of Wilmington.

The methods used to prepare and analyze Wilmington’s data are the same as those described in the main Crime in Delaware report, with one exception: data for Wilmington’s two enforcement agencies—the Wilmington Police Department and the Wilmington Fire Marshall—were first merged before analyzing the city’s data.

In this supplement, tables and figures with summary level data about offenses, clearances, and arrests are presented first. These are followed by detailed data tables with counts of offenses, clearances, and adult and juvenile arrests (Tables 3 – 6). Summaries of key findings from each level of data are also included and precede the two sections.

Delaware NIBRS data reports for 2018 were downloaded from the Delaware Department of Technology and Information secure document library on March 14, 2019. The Center’s data stability check of 2017 data indicates statistically inconsequential fluctuations in offenses of 0.6% over almost 12 months; therefore updated data for 2017 were not downloaded.

Drug Offense Changes

Note: In December 2015, Delaware passed legislation that decriminalized certain marijuana possession offenses. Depending on various circumstances, these offenses are civil offenses. Due to the Federal Government still recording these offenses as criminal, they are part of the Drug Offense totals in this report. Depending on the circumstances surrounding those offenses, an arrest may not be made due to some possession offenses being deemed “civil offenses” by the State of Delaware.

Wilmington Serious Crime At-a-Glance 2014 – 2018

Overall, 1,056 fewer Group A offenses were reported in Wilmington in 2018 compared to 2014, a decline of 8.8%. There was a small increase in 2016 before returning to a downward trend (see Table 1 and Figure 1). All major crime categories were lower in 2018 compared to 2014, with the greatest declines for Drug/Narcotic Offenses (23.9%) and Violent Offenses (9.5%). Serious Property Offenses and Other Property Offenses declined during this period by 6.8% and 4.6%. Long term trends since 2007 can also be seen in Figure 1A. Figure 1B shows the same long term trends, but at a different scale, in order to see the four categories more clearly.

The most frequently reported offenses in the city were Assault; Larceny; Destruction, Damage, and Vandalism of Property; Drug/Narcotic; Burglary; and Weapon Law Violations. Property Damage has been on an overall downward trend despite a spike in 2016. The number of homicides in 2018 (23) is the lowest in the five year report period and shows a 32% decrease since 2017. Assault has been on a downward trend despite a sharp rise in 2015. Drug Offenses continued a multiple year decline, but that decline has slowed. The patterns for the other three offenses were more mixed. Long term trends since 2007 can be seen in Figure 2.

2018 offenses in all crime categories were cleared at rates generally comparable to those from 2014 through 2017, but Drug Offense clearances did show declines (see Table 1 and Figure 3). Overall, 33% of all offenses committed in 2018 were cleared by the end of the calendar year. Long term clearance trends can also be seen in Figure 3.

The number of adult arrests has been steadily decreasing since 2014 (20%) while juvenile arrests trends have been more mixed. Coincidentally, total arrests for Drug Offenses decreased 44%. This is similar to the overall state arrest trends and is partially attributed to the marijuana possession statute changes that decriminalized marijuana possession in certain situations and circumstances. Long term trends in arrests can also be seen in Figure 3.

Since 2016, there have been noticeable declines in drug arrests despite relatively stable reported and cleared drug offenses. The primary cause for the decline in arrests can be attributed to the civil marijuana possession statute changes that were implemented in December 2015. A smaller, yet still significant, portion is due to the surge in statewide overdoses over the last few years. In many overdose situations, an individual that overdoses and survives is typically not arrested for the drug possession that led to the overdose unless there are other circumstances involved in the incident.

A Detailed Look at Crime in Wilmington

The following section provides more detailed information about serious crime in Wilmington. Included is a summary of notable findings for specific crimes within the four crime categories (Violent Offenses, Serious Property Offenses, Drug/Narcotic Offenses, Other Property & Social Offenses) along with tables that provide detailed counts of offenses, clearances, and adult and juvenile arrests.

Note to the reader:

Crime in Delaware in previous years made a distinction between “Preliminary data” and “Final data.” This was due to the fact that offense totals would fluctuate for 12-18 months after the reporting period ended. The Center’s data stability check of 2018 data indicates statistically inconsequential fluctuations in offenses of 0.6% over almost 12 months; therefore updated data for 2016 were not downloaded. Due to this reduction in offense total fluctuations, all data is considered “Final” once it is initially reported by SBI.

Please see the full report (<http://cjc.delaware.gov/sac/publications/crime.shtml>) for information about methodology and considerations.
